Salient features of your Ph.D. research work

- The PhD research work covers the issues of cybercrime with detailed analysis of jurisdictional issues in prosecution of offences related to the cybercrime. The PhD work looks into the fundamental rights and protection of the privacy of the individuals. The mechanisms that are required to protect the privacy of individuals against cybercrimes, the requirement for the change in the laws and the conflict of jurisdictions in prosecuting the cybercriminal with the human perspective were the chief highlights of the research work. Only coordination and cooperation between the states through treaties can lead to prevention of cybercrimes
